Last Surviving Daughter of Daly City's Founder

Many Memories on 105th Birthday

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The room where Lily Daly George spends her days is small and filled with memories.

On the walls and window sill of the room, at the Bowman-Harrison Convalescent Hospital in San Francisco, are photos of a beautiful girl.

The girl who had "beautiful violet eyes and red hair" was Mrs. George's daughter, Isabelle, who died many years ago.

Three United States flags ("The most beautiful flag in the world") are perched on the window sill. The room is furnished with a television set, radio and reading matter.

On Sept. 16, Mrs. George, last surviving daughter of John Donald Daly, founder of Daly City, will celebrate her 105th birthday.

Tuesday night the City Council of Daly City passed a resolution commending Mrs. George for her contributions over the many years.

ASKED WHAT her secret to a long life was, Mrs. George smilingly replied:

"A robust lust for life. I love life and I love people. My father brought me up that way."

Her favorite television personality is Mike Douglas, who she considers "a perfect gentleman at all times."

Mrs. George doesn't like drama shows, but she does like the news, musicals and Mike Douglas.

Her small portable radio was playing a pop record when Daly City Mayor McRobert Stewart paid her a visit Saturday and presented Mrs. George with an official history of Daly City.

Other than a minor circulation problem in her legs, Mrs. George is in surprisingly good health.

"I still get around with the help of a 'walker,' but at my age the (circulatory) problem is incurable," she quipped.

Her memory is remarkable. She recalls names, places and dates without hesitation.

Her father, John D. Daly, came from Boston, Mass., with her mother, Mrs. George said.

Mrs. Daly started by horse across the Isthmus of Panama with her son — there was no Panama Canal in 1854 — but died en route and 14-year-old John went on alone to the Pacific coast.

Once there, the boy caught a clipper ship headed for San Francisco.

FOR A WHILE, he carried mail by horseback between Belmont, via Millbrae, to San Francisco.

There were no roads, only trails through Indian country, in those days, historians report.

The area was called San Mateo Rancho and was administered by an Indian agent named Jose Maria Sanches. It was later bought by W. D. M. Howard.

By 1861, John had accumulated enough money to buy a small dairy farm in Millbrae near the present intersection of Highway 101 and Millbrae Avenue.

While farming, he met and married his first wife, Lillie F. Carrick on July 2, 1865.

The couple had five children — four daughters and one son.

Widowed, John Daly married Florence Smart. There were no children.

Internal Upheaval May Scuttle Redevelopment

By FRANK LaPIERRE

A major rift has developed on the city council in Daly City as a result of two possible conflicts of interest involving two councilmen, according to a city hall official.

This internal upheaval may cause the city's redevelopment program to be scrapped, it was learned.

The possible conflicts under investigation by the council involve Councilman Paul Hupf's purchase of property within the redevelopment project area, and Mayor McRobert Stewart's voting as an agency board member while his employer — Charles White — remains on the Project Area Committee.

Last week, City Atty. Albert Polonsky, in a closed door session at the start of a Redevelopment Agency meeting (the City Council is the Redevelopment Agency), reportedly dumped the matter back into the five councilmen's laps after researching both matters and the hodgepodge of laws dealing with conflicts, it has been learned.

Polonsky told The Times, "We have a problem that should not be hastily reached, and one that should take into consideration all rights of the individual."

He explained he was not at liberty "at this time" to discuss what has been turned over to the council for a determination.

"I am, after all, the council,s legal advisor, their attor- ney, and any statements should come from that source," he said.

The hubbub started with disclosure that Hupf had acquired a piece of property at 7316 Mission Street in apparent violation of sections 33130 and 33236 of the Health and Safety Code.

In addition to these two sections, there are Sections 1090 and 1126 of the Government Code; the so-called "First Moscone Bill" dealing with conflicts of interest and, in January, 1975, there will be a "Second Moscone Bill," and also Proposition 9.

Polonsky did note that none of the laws dealing with conflicts of interest on the part of elected officials and other public servants repeals another.

But there is confusion over Sections 33130 and 33236 (H&S Code).

For example, while acquisition of interest in property in a redevelopment project area by agency personnel is taboo and is considered to be "misconduct," if not disclosed, (Sec. 33130 H&SC) there are no provisions under section 33115 (H&SC) for removal from office of an agency board member.

This section provides only for removal of "an agency member" by "the appointing officer" for "inefficiency, neglect of duty, or misconduct in office."

Inasmuch as the city council is the Redevelopment Agency board, each member, in effect, appoints himself.

And although the law flatly states, "No agency or community officer or employee" may buy property in an area once it is declared a project area, there have been no determinations made in either section as to disciplinary actions to be undertaken.

It does note that any officer who has "any direct or indirect financial interest" in an area must "immediately make a written disclosure of it to the agency."

Hupf, who has attended 48 of the redevelopment agency's 71 meetings since it was formed in May, 1972, did disclose his purchase of the former ambulance site on Mission Street in the wake of published reports on the acquisition.

The property, according to San Mateo County records, was bought in April, 1974.

"Insofar as disclosure is concerned he has complied," Polonsky said. "Insofar as other aspects (of the case) I cannot comment."

Any criminal charges regarding the issue would be pursued by County District Attorney Keith Sorenson's office, it was understood.

7.85 Per Cent Hike For Teachers Voted

The Jefferson Union High School Board of Trustees has voted a 7.85 per cent salary increase for its classified and certificated employees Aug. 27 in a special meeting at Serramonte High School.

District Superintendent Edward Morgan said the employees are expected to vote on whether to accept the offer this week.

Morgan said the board went ahead with a vote on salaries at the request of the Certificated Employees Council, which wanted the trustees to go on record with an offer.

And in another matter, the board decided to set back the date for presentation of the staff report on the building program at Serramonte to Dec. 3. It had been scheduled to be completed Nov. 11.

The school building was one of the major concerns found in a Serramonte Needs Assessment Study, which pointed to 17 problem areas at the campus and suggested solutions to them.

The report said the building was not suited for the educational program at the school, and called for new construction to begin by September 1975 to alleviate the problems.

LADY OF THE LAW

Not too long ago, Leila Ray was a Bryn Mawr graduate editing best sellers; now, with Assistant District Attorney Robert Courshon's guidance, she's a prosecuting deputy district attorney in Northern Judicial District Municipal Court.

Women in DA's Office

'Best Qualified'

By LIN DAY

Those accused of criminal behavior do a double take these days when they walk into San Mateo County's municipal courtrooms.

Any one of three bright young ladies may be presenting the charges against them.

They are Barbara Joyce Mallach, 25, Leila Ray, 31, and Kathleen Anne Wentworth, 25.

Accused suspects quickly find out they are facing one of the best young district attorneys in Keith Sorenson's stable and that the girls are competent not only in tallying up misdeeds but in convincing judges and juries.

Assistant District Attorney Robert Courshon, who oversees their work, remarks that "they were the best qualified candidates" in recent selection of deputy district attorneys.

"They have worked out well," he says.

Aram Severian, Deputy in Charge of Central District Municipal Court, says Barbara, who only a year ago was graduated from law school in Los Angeles, "has reached the point where I just assign her everything."

Assignment of a full case load (1500 a year) to the girls is recognition of their ability; new attorneys do not usually get the hard-fight cases until they are more experienced, Severian indicated.

All three girls admit that everybody is surprised to find themin the prosecutor's chair.

"They ask where the district attorney is," smiles Miss Mallach.

"Some defendants think that because I am a woman they can appeal to my sympathy," she smiles.

"Once they have talked to me, they realize it is not going to work. They are just speaking to an attorney."

One defendant in a drunk-driving case, after Barbara secured conviction, congratulated her on her presentation.

Younger defendants are friendlier, she says, but "they are not interested in district attorneys."

Becoming a district attorney has not changed her life too much socially, she says, although she tends to find herself dating attorneys and police officers more than before.

"Other district attorneys tell me they are not invited to certain parties as they once had been," she recalls.

Barbara likes criminal law because there is always something different coming up. She picked a law career when a schoolgirl of 12 in Los Angeles. "I enjoy it because I am doing something worthwhile," she says today.

On her way she was a dean's list and honor student at the Washington State University, house president of Delta Delta Delta sorority there and a member of its Powder Puff (flag) football team that went to the intramural finals. She also was a university pompon girl.

She took her law degree at the University of California at Los Angeles in June, 1973, and moved here shortly afterwards.

In the Northern Judicial District courthouse in South San Francisco, Leila Ray, after one month of prosecuting, is handling a full case load that includes such cases as drunk driving, resisting arrest and murder.

Leila has a disarming demeanor that cloaks educated efficiency. She handles cases involving defendants whose last names start with the letters R to Z.

Recently, an attorney associated with the Public Defender's office called in, after getting to know Leila, and demanded: "Give me no more cases from R to Z."

Another recently tried the baseball switch of challenging prospective jurors until he had secured a nearly all-woman jury — a variation of the left-handed hitter against a left-handed pitcher routine.

Coast Pact for DC Man

Daly City architect Albert R. Seyranian has been selected by the Pacifica City Council to design a $350,000 fire station at the White Field site south of Linda Mar Boulevard.

The item was one of many considered at the Aug. 30 meeting, the first held by the council in its new, impressive chamber on the second floor of the Sewer Treatment Plant on Beach Boulevard.

The council has selected the firm of Hawley, Stowers and Associates and Fisher-Friedman Associates to provide the architectural service Aug. 12, but that group said they would not perform the task unless certain modifications were made in the contract. One of these included a $5,577 increase in the architectural fees.

In another matter, the council delayed implementation of the Weed Abatement Work Program 30 days.

The annual program, conducted by the fire department and scheduled to begin in November, is carried out to help prevent potential fire hazards.

Some 950 parcels are involved. Property owners may remove the weeds themselves or pay to have it done.

The delay followed a vigorous protest by Hen-Min Hiu, of the Willowbrook Estates area. He complained about the chemical spray used to kill the weeds. After much haggling, the council finally agreed to have an independent study made of the herbicides, preferably by the Environmental Protection Agency.

The council expects to take action on it Sept. 3.

Among other actions, the council:

• Authorized the purchase of a $900 vacuum sweeper that will expedite

A Heckuva Serve For a 10-Year-Old

Tennis player Mary Ann Faue of Daly City has a great right hand serve for a 10 year old.

A knife-wielding man who tried to abduct her from a residential street about 5 p.m. Monday found this out the hard way, police said.

Two men in a blue 1957 Ford approached Mary Ann near the corner of Lincoln and Lakeshire avenues as she was on her way to practice tennis at nearby Westmoor High School.

A man described as "in his early 20s and carrying a knife" tried to force the child into the car at knifepoint, police said.

Instead, the child swatted her would-be abductor on the head and, as he stood stunned, ran home.

The car sped off in the opposite direction, police said.

Later, Daly became interested in the Dairy Delivery Co., a group of several individual dairies in the state. He soon became president of the organization — today part of the Borden Co.

Daly is credited, too, with being predecessor to the Bank of America.

At the site of his Daly City ranch, at the top of the hill on Mission Street, Daly founded the Daly City Bank.

He later sold it to the Bank of Italy, which today is called the Bank of America. The building remains at the joining of San Jose and Mission streets.

JOHN D. DALY
Daly City's namesake

About 1885, he moved his family to 900 Guerrero Street in San Francisco. This building, with its turrets and garden, also still stands.

MRS. GEORGE TELLS of a small cabin her father kept in Daly City.

"He would often go there. The door was never locked. He would work the small truck farm with us children and we would stock the cabin with food in case some passing visitor needed something to eat," she said.

The cabin was typical of John Daly, she said.

"He was always offering help to people."

"I will never forget when my father died and his carriage passed through the city he loved so much. People kneeled on the side of the road and many cried. He loved them and they loved him," she said.

At the time of his death, John Daly, was "comfortable," but by no means a millionaire, historians report.

Mrs. Lily Daly George was asked what events of the past century impressed her the most?

"The Great Earthquake of 1906. The fire came within a half block of our home on Guerrero Street and we moved to the (Daly City) cabin. I later moved in with relatives in the San Joaquin Valley," she recalled.

"The space vehicles, the moon walk, they were wonderful. However, I was actually involved in the earthquake. I met the people who suffered and lived through it," Mrs. George said.

In the case of the moon walks and other historical events, she was merely an observer, she said.

Her father provided up to 30 persons a night with a place to sleep and food during the days following the 'quake.

"They had all the eggs and cream and milk they could eat. My father was always helping others. He taught his children to respect and help others," Mrs. Lily Daly George said.

HOME STILL STANDS
This is the home of Daly City's Founder, John D. Daly, still standing at 900 Guerrero St., at 21st Street, in San Francisco.

Woman, 25, Heads Anti-Crime Plan

A young three-person staff has been appointed to administer a unique San Mateo County program called CAPTURE which is designed to reduce crime in the streets.

Ann Marquart, a 25-year-old who has a master's degree in Criminal Justice, was appointed administrative coordinator of CAPTURE Tuesday.

The appointment was announced by San Mateo Police Chief J. L. Coppock who is project director of CAPTURE which means Citizens Active Participation Through Utilization of Relevant Education.

When asked if it was not unusual for a 25-year-old woman to be appointed head of such an agency, Chief Coppock said, "We selected on the basis of qualifications alone."

Out of 200 applications received for the job, Chief Coppock added that Miss Marquart was "the most outstanding candidate."

Miss Marquart will begin a "grass roots" program to reduce crime here. "We will start a coordinated effort to get the support and action of all the citizens of San Mateo County to design and implement individualized crime control programs for their areas," Miss Marquart said.

Exactly what specific crime control programs will be initiated is not yet known, according to Miss Marquart.

Miss Marquart and her two assistants — Herbert Houston, 30, and Alene (Cookie) Pettee, 29 — will begin their CAPTURE program by visiting civic organizations, service clubs and knocking on doors of individual residents in an attempt to motivate people to reacting to crime prevention.

Houston, former assistant personnel director of the West Oakland Health Center, has a masters degree in public administration. Miss Pettee also holds a masters degree in public administration and was formerly employed in city government in southern California.

Ann Marquart

The three CAPTURE heads hope to solicit numerous volunteers throughout the county to assist in the CAPTURE program which might also help educate the public on how to better protect themselves from crime.

County System

Start of an automated evaluation system to bring San Mateo County "about 25 years ahead of where we've been" in evaluating efficiency of office and financial management procedures was authorized Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

Systems & Computer Technology Corp., a Pennsylvania organization, was awarded the contract to undertake the evaluation at a cost of $245,000.

The project was authorized by the board in its approval of the 1974-75 county budget.

In a report to the board, County Manager M. D. Tarshes said that the new procedure will institute automation of centralized accounting, much of which has been done manually in many county departments.

Women in DA's Office Prompt Double-Takes

Leila took the decision, after a day and a half of trial.

Daughter of a Navy captain, she was born in San Diego, spent her early teen years in Chile, and then completed her secondary education at Germantown Friends School in Philadelphia. She then won her B.A. at prestigious Bryn Mawr College, where she majored in Spanish.

Leila then became assistant editor at St. Martin's Press, a wholly-owned subsidiary of MacMillan Publishing, London, but after a tour of this, moved west and began law studies at Lincoln Law School in San Jose.

During her four years of law studies, Leila worked in Stanford Hospital's Surgical Pathology Department, then as a student volunteer in the Public Defender's office. After graduation in 1972, she put in a year in the Private Defender's office and a year of private practice before being appointed to her present post.

"I wanted the district attorney's office all the time," she admits.

To cap it all, Leila now teaches law as a faculty member of the Lincoln Law School, expounding on Real Property, Personal Property and Introduction to Law.

On the side, she plays a classic guitar and experiments with a harmonica. She's had no dating problem yet — "I don't think many people know I am with the district attorney's office now," she smiles.

She feels a career woman in law can have a happy marriage if there is no conflict of career with that of her husband. Meanwhile, she says, 'I am really happy in my work."

"She's one of our best," says Tom Blake, Deputy in Charge at the North County courthouse. Blake, who has met all three neophytes in the county office, says, "They are all exceptionally qualified lawyers."

Kathi Wentworth may look feminine, but she is actually a non-militant feminist who has helped lead environmentalists in such battles as that of Redwood Shores. Her hobby is racing airplanes in competition.

Ms. Wentworth's specialty is rape cases and juvenile molestations. A female prosecutor is usually better in handling children, most people around the district attorney's office feel, and Kathi feels that rape victims are more willing to talk to her than a man, which helps in better preparation of the prosecution case.

Like the others, she handles a full prosecution load of cases in the Southern District and has obtained decisions in most of her jury trials.

She likes law, which she chose as a career before college, because of the challenge involved and she feels more women should enter the field. However, she admits, it is changing, and whereas when she began her studies only 12 of 180 students were women, now about one-third are female.

Born in San Francisco, Kathi attended St. Gabriel's School, then Mercy High School in Burlingame, graduating there in 1967. She completed college and law school in a total of six years, becoming a law school graduate at 23 and passing the Bar examination as she turned 24.

To do that, she had to have, and did have a top scholastic record and undertook the honors program in a special three-years-college and three-years-law-school program at University of San Francisco. Her B.A. is in political science.

She was president of the U.S.F. Young Republican Club, and vice president of the California College Republican Organization. She also was a senator in the student body government at college and wrote articles for the college paper on the side.

Kathi worked her way through college, auditing time rolls for the San Francisco Civil Service Commission. After passing her bar, she became a secretary in the San Francisco District Attorney's office, and joined San Mateo D.A.'s staff last January.

Kathi had previous experience in this county from 1971 to 1973, when she worked for the Private Defender's Office, defending juvenile offenders at Hillcrest Juvenile Hall.

A member of the West Valley Flying Club, she has more than 350 solo hours, and now flies out of Palo Alto and San Carlos airports. With Nancy Stock of Belmont, she flew the Palms to Pines race, and would like to fly in the Powder Puff Derby next year. She belongs to the 99's, the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association and other groups.

"I like the freedom, the soaring, and being absolutely in command," she says.

She feels someday she will marry; but she does not want to give up her career. "All the men in the office are married," she reminds. Her dates include lawyers and policemen, but also engineers and people of many professions.

She's not treated differently because of her job in her social life, she feels. "It doesn't bother my friends," she says, "but I have walked into a wedding party and heard someone say: 'OK, guys, the D.A.'s here, cool it.'

"New people sometimes say: 'You are the D.A.? You don't look like it'," she recalls.

Asked how she feels about a mental defense in a felony trial, particularly in rapes, she responds:

"Until we get his head straightened out, I want his body in jail."

She was also asked what the funniest experience was that she could recall in her present job.

"I don't think we have had many funny things," she responded seriously. "We don't have too much humor around here."

Vote Consolidation OKd

Action authorizing the consolidation of 16 city, school and special district elections with the Nov. 5 general election was taken Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

County Clerk-Recorder Marvin Church reported that four cities will have special elections.

Belmont is seeking an advisory vote of its citizens concerning alternative approaches to development of an aquatic complex.

Brisbane is seeking to fill a vacancy on the city council.

San Mateo is submitting two bond proposals — one for $5,125,000 to construct new sewers and storm drains, a second for $1.3 million to improve the city's street lighting system.

Pacifica is submitting a $500,000 bond proposal for development of recreational facilities.

The Estero Municipal Improvement District is submitting a $739,000 bond measure for land acquisition to develop parks and playgrounds in Foster City.

Holding elections for members to their respective boards of directors are the San Mateo County Harbor District, the Peninsula Hospital District, the Sequoia Hospital District and the Ravenswood Recreation and Park District.

In addition, the Burlingame, San Mateo Union High, San Mateo City, Portola Valley, Bayshore, Sequoia Union High and the South San Francisco Unified school districts will be submitting financing measures and/or trustee replacement proposals before the voters.

Also on the ballot will be the proposal to create a transit district in San Mateo County.

Alcohol Abuse Classes Sought

By RICK SULLIVAN

Additional classes devoted to pointing out the causes and effects of alcohol abuse should be the top priority for the South San Francisco Unified School District's health education programs.

This was the first of 12 recommendations submitted to the board of trustees recently by the Citizens' Advisory Committee on Student Health.

Committee advisor Pat Cannon told the board:

"We are very concerned that alcohol use is being taken for granted in this district. And we believe there is a significant use of alcohol in a debilitating way on the part of many students and on the part of some students' parents."

The committee called for the district to "increase the amount of instruction devoted to the causes and effects of alcohol."

Among other recommendations submitted by the committee, which for 10 months evaluated health programs offered by the district, were:

a That the present level of instruction of the chemical effects of drugs be continued.

a That instruction on legal implications of drug use be upgraded.

a That instruction on human reproduction be continued.

a That instruction on venereal disease be continued according to present policy.

a That information on community services such as (the now defunct SSF) Damien House (a community drop-in center) be updated.

a That a review be conducted of guidelines for making group-counseling and rap-group opportunities during school hours available to students.

a That more study be given to the availability of adults who can provide immediate and direct help to students (experiencing) a serious personal crisis.

a That drug and health education instruction continue to stress alternatives and resources available in the schools and community once a student finds himself/herself in a difficult situation.

a That short-term temporary housing for students (experiencing a personal) crisis be established as a priority. (Cannon said the district has been discussing with South San Francisco Police alternatives to sending students with serious family problems to the county detention center. One alternative under consideration, Cannon said, was a foster home plan, whereby students would be placed in a temporary residence, until family problems could be worked out. He said the district and police still are studying alternatives.)

a That a semester health course that includes instruction on mental health be added to the secondary school curriculum.

Trustees accepted the recommendations and asked the committee to present them to the district staff for evaluation.

SSF Extension Plan Delayed

The South San Francisco Planning Commission Wednesday delayed a decision on whether the extension of Miller Avenue from Chestnut to Willow Avenue should be deleted from the city's general plan.

The planning staff recommended that the proposed extension be removed from the general plan, but commissioners, after listening from some residents who urged that the extension be constructed agreed to study the matter further.

One speaker Libby Merlini, presented the commission with a 1971 petition she said was signed by 650 residents who wanted Miller Avenue extended.

The staff argued that a decision on the deletion was needed so that an architect could complete the design for the planned public safety complex at Grand and Chestnut Avenues.

Director of Public Services Frank Addiego said extension of Miller Avenue would effect the grades and elevation of the proposed safety complex.

Fund-Raiser For Leo Ryan

A unique way to kick off a campaign to sell tickets for a Congressman Leo J. Ryan fund-raising dinner was revealed yesterday by Fred and Anna Lee of Hillsborough: Hold a Chinese luncheon.

Tickets for the Oct. 6 "unity" dinner, at $20 per person, will go on sale shortly after Labor Day, they said.

The dinner will be held at Kee Joon's restaurant in Burlingame.

Better Business

Religious Solicitation Queried

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, BBB Barometer

It is the policy of the Better Business Bureau not to comment on any religion. However, when any church or religious group enters the marketplace or solicitates charitable contributions from the public as opposed to from only its members, the Bureau then reports on such solicitation as it reports on any charitable solicitation.

Solicitors for the Unification Church, also known as the Holy Spirit Association for the Unification of World Christianity, have been reported going door-to-door asking for donations and selling candles.

The Unification Church is an international religious organization founded in 1954 by Sun Myung Moon in Seoul, South Korea. It was incorporated in California on September 18, 1961. The national headquarters is at 1365 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. Local churches exist in 50 states and in the District of Columbia. Its purpose is to study, teach and worship God and to apply "The Unification Principle" developed by Sun Myung Moon.

Although solicitors for the Unification Church were using a Council of Better Business Bureau information memorandum on their organization as part of their appeal (in violation of CBBB policy), the Church has stated it would take immediate steps to discontinue this policy. Any further violations of this policy should be reported to the Unification Church officials and the CBBB.

The Wisdom Society, also known as Wisdom Hall of Fame and doing business as Wisdom Encyclopedia, 1907 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills, is a non-profit corporation organized under the laws of the State of California. It has been in existence since 1957. The Society has solicited funds from persons nominated to receive the Wisdom Award of Honor and to become members in the Wisdom Society and the Wisdom Hall of Fame, and as founders of the Wisdom Encyclopedia.

Mail addressed to the organization will be returned marked: "Return to Sender; Order Issued against Addressee for Violation of False Representation Law."

Garbage Rate Boost?

With the ratification of a new contract last Saturday, some South San Francisco garbagemen could be making nearly $20,000 a year in three years, according to George Stagnaro, partner in the South San Francisco Scavenger Co.

And to help the scavenger company meet its new payroll residents of Millbrae, South San Francisco, Brisbane and the Bayshore District of Daly City could be hit with an increase in monthly garbage pick-up rates.

Although Stagnaro insists that his arithmetic shows top scale garbagemen would be earning nearly $20,000 by the end of the current contract, Bob Morales, business agent for Teamsters Local 350, says the estimate "is a little high."

"I have not as yet sat down and figured it out, but I doubt if any of the scavengers will be making $20,000 a year," said Morales. "I don't want to give an estimate, however, until I examine the figures," he added.

Stagnaro said Thursday he is "contemplating" asking the city to authorize an increase in rates in all cities serviced by the company.

Stagnaro said rates differ in each city. They now range from $2.50 to $3 a month.

The new contract for the scavengers, the result of a three-week walkout, guarantees the company's 37 garbagemen about a half a million dollars in wages in fringe benefits over the next three years, Stagnaro said.

"It just appears obvious to me that we (the scavenger company) can't pay out this kind of money without an increzse in rates," said Stagnaro, who added he would consult his accountant about the increase upon his return from vacation.

The new contract assures garbagemen an across-the-board increase of $6.20 a day for the first year, $4.16 for the second year and $5 a day for the third year.

"With the increase in salary, together with all the other fringe benefits some of the garbagemen (at the end of three years) will jump right into the $20,000 (a year) bracket," said Stagnaro.

Other elements of the scavenger contract include two additional paid holidays; five days sick leave and a day's wages for each day of the five sick days not used by the end of the year; and double time pay for those working holidays.

Also included in the contract is an income protection plan, which guarantees workers who are sick or temporarily disabled, $25 a week over and above their sick leave pay and disability pay; a $1 a day premium for commercial scavenger truck drivers; a cost of living provision; an increase in vacation time for all workers, and an increase in the pension plan and in medical and dental benefits.

Music Club President

Mrs. D. Sterling Wheelright, past president of the Burlingame Music Club, has been elected president of the Northern District of the California Federation of Music Clubs, based in Los Angeles, the organization announces.

Serving with Mrs. Wheelright on the board will be Mrs. C. E. Righter, Burlingame; Mrs. Frederica Roher of San Rafael, Mrs. Roberta Beukers, Daly City, and Mrs. Helen Snelling, Tiburon.

Purpose of the organization is to provide auditions for young artists approaching professionalism and for younger students seeking scholarship to continue music studies.

Lovanne Heath

Like all great things, summer and our annual retreat to the mountains, has finally ended.

Coming home is always so much less dramatic than the departure! For the past couple of weeks we have noticed that the evenings were distinctly cooler. The offspring protested, even more loudly than usual, the nightly shower in our outdoor facility and the adults had to concur that it was a bit unpleasant to step from beneath that warm spray into the chill air. Another sure sign of the approach of departure day!

Everything seems topsy-turvy this summer in our part of the Sierra. The cold weather lasted so long that the cherries and wild plums froze and there seemed to be fewer gooseberries to prick our fingers. We may have to forego making homemade elderberry wine because, by our departure days, the berries still weren't ripe and they probably will have all been eaten by the deer before we get back for a long weekend.

The baby squirrels didn't appear around the cabin until August and they seem to have scattered quickly. Our raccoon population increased by at least seven this year, and the young are just beginning to play tricks on the two mothers who nightly bring them to visit a feeding stump near the workshop. The deer seem very young for September and the approaching advent of hunting season.

We can do nothing about those wild life domestic problems. We won't even be here to worry about them!! We've put out the last left-over pancake and the slightly wilted head of lettuce and from now on the raccoons, squirrels and fawns will have to shift for themselves.

This was the year our 17-year-old son learned to wheel our station wagon around the back roads and he was always off someplace with a load of kids while we sat home chewing our fingernails and praying he didn't take the turns too fast!

WE LEARNED what it is like to have two young sons scooting about on trail bikes this past summer . . . "Come back, you forgot your helmet!" was almost as familiar a phrase as . . . "Can't you turn that phonograph down a few notches?" Our four year old learned that you can create lots of excitement by just taking a hike by yourself right through the poison oak and past the rocks where snakes could be sunbathing.

It is just two months out of a year while the tractor grumbles and moans in the mine, the kids roar about on four- or two wheels, and the filter in the washing machine yields enough sand to pan. Delightful, agonizing, hectic, lazy, any number of adjectives would do well to describe July and August, but as a family we concur that only one word really sums up our summer, "heavenly."

Yesterday three of the children went off to school. Next week the fourth starts college. Everyone is getting back into a routine and that goes for yours truly. Items for the column may be mailed in or telephone to me but deadlines are Wednesdays of each week. Write 70 De Soto St. or call any afternoon, 585-4758.

READY TO ASSUME their duties as aides in Scouting are several girls who trained this past summer at the Girl Scout Day Camp.

Among those who completed training to help the adult leaders are Kathy Chiappari, Susan Hall, Susan McDowell, Darlene Rusting, Barbara Skirra, Lori Golden, Gerry Ulukou, Sandy Freitas and Diane Law, all cadets or Senior Scouts from local units.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 10, the Fifty Plus club will hold its regular meeting at 10 a.m. in the Linda Mar branch of the Pacifica Library. Visitors are welcome.

Skyline College Details Local Program Series

A sampling of many of the world's finest wines will be available during the "laboratory" segment of "The Joys of Wine," this fall's first Skyline College Community Services sponsored series.

This nine week exploration of the history, technical background, legal/medical facts, and financial considerations of enology, along with actual comparisons of the many fine wines available to Bay Area residents, will begin Sept., 10, in the multi-purpose room of the Shelter Creek Apartments in San Bruno.

One unit of college credit is available. The series fee is $40.

Until recently, picturesque Baja-California was difficult to explore, but the completion of a modern highway throughout the length of this new vacationland has allowed Skyline College counselor Bill Cornejo to photograph this wonderland.

Cornejo, who has traveled extensively throughout Baja as a pilot, amateur photographer, and diver will conduct a lecture and slide show during the first part of an Armchair Travel Series, a Community Services Program being held Sept. 11 at 7 p.m. in the Main Theatre of Skyline College.

Fees for this program are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. A second and third series covering spectacular Alaska and Italy will be presented on Sept. 18 and 25 for combined series price of $2 for adult and $1.25 for student.

Any dog at least six months old will be responsive to gestures and verbal commands after completion of Skyline College's fall Community Services program "Dog Obedience-Basic and Intermediate."

Daly City Police Sgt. Richard Seguine will guide the dogs and their handlers through this eight week series which will have its first meeting at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 14 in Building 1, Room 111 of Skyline College.

The series fee is $18 for the sessions which will be held on consecutive Saturdays.

Short Quiz

Apparently the editors of today's magazines agree with E. D. Small who wrote as a preface to a family quiz: "In the literature of our country, we can share dreams as well as experiences, and can learn to understand ourselves both as a people and as individuals."

To this end, the editors have been publishing quizzes by Mr. Small and others. Here are a few questions from various tests that have appeared. Try them.

1. In Washington Irving's story, Rip Van Winkle sleeps for a. 10 years, b. 100 years, c. 20 years, d. 50 years.

2. An American man of letters called his publication, "Poor Richard's Almanac." He also wrote under the pen name of Mrs. Silence Dogood. Who was he?

3. Name the poet also famed as the inventor of the detective story. a. Edgar Allan Poe, b. Edgar Albert Guest, c. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, d. Henry Agard Wallace.

4. Name the professor that dipped into American history to write the Song of Hiawatha, Evangeline and the Courtship of Miles Standish.

5. Which of these American authors won the Nobel Prize for literature? a. Sinclair Lewis, b. Eugene O'Neill, Pearl S. Buck, d. William Faulkner, e. Ernest Hemingway, f. John Steinbeck.

6. A noted poet was the father of a son who bore the same name who became a Justice of the Supreme Court. Was it a. John Greenleaf Whittier, b. Nathaniel Hawthorne, c. Ralph Waldo Emerson, d. Oliver Wendell Holmes.

8. Although a female poet spent most of her life as a recluse, her poetry is very perspective. Was it a. Louisa May Alcott, b. Amy Lowell, c. Emily Dickinson, d. Janet Taylor Caldwell.

9. Who wrote "Beyond the Horizon, Strange Interlude, Long Day's Journey into Night. Was it a. Elmer Riel, b. Tennessee Williams, c. Maxwell Anderson, d. Eugene O'Neill?

10. Who is called the father of free verse in America?" a. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, b. Walt Whitman, c. James Fenimore Cooper, d. Steven Vincent Benet?

11. The Scarlet Letter is about a. punishment for adultery, b. punishment for murder, c. punishment for robbery, punishment for a child's death.

Answers: 1. 20 years, 2. Benjamin Franklin. 3. Edgar Allan Poe. 4. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. 5. All six. 6. Oliver Wendell Holmes, 7. Jack London. 8. Emily Dickinson. 9. Eugene O'Neill. 10. Walt Whitman. 11. Punishment for adultery.

Score: Allowing one point for each correct answer, you win the Pulitzer Prize if you got eleven right; 9-10 puts you in a class with a college professor; less than 9 sends you back to school.

Ryan, Murphy Exchange Vows at Country Club

A reception at the California Golf Club in South San Francisco followed the marriage of Linda Ann Ryan and James Charles Murphy.

The nuptials took place at Our Lady of Angels Church in Burlingame last week. The Rev. Richard C. Fry officiated.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Ryan of Burlingame. Escorted to the altar by her father, she wore a long white organza dress trimmed in Venise lace at the bodice and hemline and embellished with a scalloped train of matching lace. The bride completed her look with a matching elbow length veil and a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and fern.

Nancy Ryan of Burlingame, the maid of honor for her sister, set the style of dress for the bridal party in a costume with a spring green voile skirt and a white eyelet bodice. She wore a white hat with matching green ribbon, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses tied with yellow ribbon.

Similar flowers tied with green ribbon were carried by the bridesmaids: Karen Belluomini of San Mateo, Cathy Murphy of Millbrae, sister of the bridegroom, and Mary Ellen Trainor and Monica Schon, both of Burlingame.

John Murphy of San Bruno stood with his brother as best man. Both are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Murphy of San Bruno. Larry Ryan of Burlingame, the bride's brother, seated guests with Kevin Epidendio of Belmont, Jim Coyle of Sacramento and Bob Wynkeep of San Bruno.

A June graduate of California State University at Chico where she majored in child development, the bride studied locally at Mercy High School and the College of San Mateo. She has one other brother, Richard Ryan.

James earned his bachelor's degree in English in June from the University of Santa Clara. He previously attended Serra High School. The bridegroom is also the brother of Sister Anne Murphy of the Sisters of Mercy.

The couple will live in Burlingame.

Bamboos In Trouble

By IVA NEWMAN

About a month ago a friend called to tell us that Tamiich Ohaziki's Giant Bamboo was flowering. We looked out the window at our clump and found that it, too, was flowering. Then, for a couple of weeks we were too busy to give it a second thought. When time became more available we found our beautiful stand of this bamboo looked most unhappy.

We contacted our friend Mitsuzo Kitagawa, who had given us our clump, for help in saving our bamboo. He told us that his clump was dying and that other clumps on the Peninsula also were dying and that he had heard from friends in Japan that the giant or "timber" bamboo was dying. He said this happened about every 100 years. He also told us that if we cut our bamboo to the ground, fertilized and watered the soil around the roots it probably would come back.

We contacted the University of California's Farm Advisor's office in Half Moon Bay for help. They responded by telling us that when weather conditions were just right in any given year, Giant Bamboo will bloom. "This phenomenon does not occur every year, only when weather conditions dictate," we were told. We have had our bamboo over ten years. "After it blooms, Giant Bamboo usually dies out to the ground and new shoots come up and the process starts all over again," a spokesman said.

Farm Advisor Dave Hanson, wrote us to cut our bamboo off at the ground and new shoots should arise from other roots connected to the main plant. He didn't mention fertilizing and watering but we will do that too.

NELL NORTON

Good morning, good cooks.

School time! And that means lots of lunches to make and lots of cookies to bake. By good fortune I tested two cookie recipes in the last week. They are both delicious.

This first recipe comes from Canada and the sendee states that they are wonderful to have on hand for young cookie-jar raiders.

BROWN COOKIES

1 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking power
1 cup raisins
1 cup chopped nuts
4½ cups flour

Cream the one cup shortening with the two cups brown sugar. Beat in the four eggs one at a time. Add two teaspoons vanilla and mix well. Sift the four and one-half cups flour with the one teaspoon salt and two teaspoons baking powder. Blend into the creamed mixture. Fold in the one cup each nuts and raisins. Drop by heaping teaspoonsful onto lightly greased cookie sheets. Bake in 350-degree oven 12 to 15 minutes. Makes approximately 10 dozen cookies.

Another recipe that has traveled across the country to help us fill the gap in the cookie jar is this goodie from Jane Ward who lives in Cincinnati, Ohio. As Jane notes in her letter, "They have an unattractive name, but they taste delicious."

DUMP COOKIES

1 cup flour
1 cup wheat germ
1 cup brown sugar
2 cups quick oats
½ cup white sugar
1 cup shortening
2 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon (heaping) baking soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 12-oz. package chocolate chips
1 cup raisins
½ cup chopped nuts

In large bowl "dump" all the ingredients, one cup each wheat germ, flour and brown sugar, two cups quick oats, one-half cup white sugar, one cup shortening, two eggs, one teaspoon each salt and vanilla, one (heaping) teaspoon baking soda, 12 ounces chocolate chips, one cup raisins and one-half cup nuts. Mix by hand. Drop heaping teaspoonsful onto lightly greased baking sheet and bake in 350-degree oven 12 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Makes about 8 dozen cookies.

'Cactus Flower' to Open Sept. 13

"Cactus Flower", the Broadway stage hit, that was transplanted from the Parisian boulevards where it was also a smash hit, and was later adapted to the screen, will be staged in Pacifica when the Pacifica Spindrift Players production opens its three weekend run on Friday evening Sept. 13.

As in many farces, the hilarity of "Cactus Flower" rises out of a lie that must be made good with further deceptions pited on even more desperate deceptions. A fashionable New York dentist weaves this web and gets uproariously tangled in it all, because the girl named Toni he is carrying on a blithe affair with has an irresistable compulsion for truth.

His honestly damaging admission that he was a married man with three children is what had endeared him to her right after they met — only it wasn't honest — it was invented as a safeguard against being drawn into matrimony.

When he does decide to marry Toni, she insists on meeting his wife so she can explain she does not intend to be a homewrecker. He counters by saying that his wife wants to divorce him to marry another man. Now he must produce both!

The dentist's nurse Stephanie is cajoled into pretending to be his wife — but once into the role, the spinsterish nurse begins to play it for real, creating and enjoying the compulsive complications that come fast and furious.

Marj Heise is featured as nurse Stephanie Dickinson, Gary Nelson as dentist Julian Winston and Candi Rettig as Toni Simmons. Al Schilf is seen as Igor Sullivan, Warren Gabrielli as Harvey and Darrell Greer as Sr. Arturo Sanchez. Roberta Ewald is seen as Mrs. Dixon Durant, Bev Gabrielli as "Botticelli's Springtime" and Brent Burgess as the customer.

Sydney Clark is directing "Cactus Flower" and the assistant director is Janice Justice. Curtain will be at 8:30 p.m. at Oddstad Park Center, 1000 Crespi Drive, Pacifica.

What a Woman Has in Common

What does a woman living in the early 1900's have in common with a politician, a homosexual, or a bureaucrat?

These and other questions will be answered, according to Skyline College English instructor Pat Fuqua, as part of the Afro-American Literature course she will be teaching this fall.

This three unit evening college course, English 43-75, satisfies the English requirement for the Associate Arts degree.

The class begins Sept. 11 at 6:30 p.m.

For further information about registration call Skyline College at 355-7000, extension 251.

Pupils Tour Westmoor High Meet Officers

The Westmoor High School Student Executive Board hosted the annual Orientation Assembly in the boys' gym Aug. 29.

The program was designed for students new to Westmoor High School.

Fred Malianni, student body president, was master of ceremonies, assisted by Frank deLuna, vice president; Karen Kaufman, secretary; Dan Rath, treasurer; Cindy Rogers, commission of clubs; Linda Rigas, rally commissioner; Barbara Horn, commissioner of entertainment, and Glynis Heissenbuttle, judge.

Following the assembly the students broke up into small discussion groups for a question-answer session and then a tour of the school.

Chamber Meeting

The board of directors and the officers of the Greater Daly City Chamber of Commerce recently held its first workshop meeting at the Chamber's new office at 6767 Mission St.

President Al Vial presided. He opened the meeting to general discussion on the proposed plans and programs for the chamber in the years ahead, more specifically, working out the committee assignments for the 1974-75 year.

Many items were brought to the attention of the members present, and a special executive meeting was called for Sept. 10, for the various committee chairmen to report progress on their programs.

A general meeting for the full membership is scheduled for Oct. 17 and the board of directors will meet in an executive session on Sept. 12.

Present at the first workshop meeting were first vice president James Howe, Jr.; second vice president Charles Turner, and directors Ralph Hall, Vincent Murphy, Ann Ohlendorf, James Sargen, Frank Spadarella, Charles Lewkowitz and Alfred O. Belotz.

Sunday School Promotion Observance

Sunday School promotion will be observed Sunday at the 10 a.m. worship service at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 - 87th St., Daly City.

Mrs. Joan Anderson, the general superintendent, indicates that Bibles will be given to the new third grade pupils. There are classes in the Nursery Department for 3 and 4 year old pupils, Kindergarten for 5 to 6, first and second grades, third and fourth, fifth and sixth grades and junior high, and high school-college ages.

There are two teams of teachers for each group through the sixth grade. The teachers attend two leadership training sessions during the year with in-service training also being given.

Bible-centered teaching materials are used with emphasis on practical Christian application.

Pupils are enrolled by taking them to the Sunday School office before 10 a.m. Sundays. There is no charge, but they are encouraged to develop the grace of giving through regular offerings.

The school meets from 10 through 11:10 a.m. with regular attendance encouraged.

Junior highs (seven, eighth and ninth grades) meet Thursdays at 7 p.m. and high school-college youth meet Sundays at 7 p.m.

The Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie is the pastor.

BLOSSOM DEARIE IS SOMETHING SPECIAL

The motto of any self-respecting newspaper is "We aim to be first." But sometimes others get there ahead and in the chagrin of second place, we have to work twice as hard to look good.

Last year in New York my sophisticated host suggested we look in on singer Blossom Dearie, lyrical chanteuse par excellence to the really "in" night people there. I was frankly thinking of Blossom Seeley, an oldtime movie actress and let it pass.

My erstwhile and peripetetic colleague columnist John Wasserman was making the scene at the same time and wrote back in glowing terms of that self-same musical delight, Miss Dearie who captures the heart and imagination of anyone fortunate enough to hear her perform.

And so it was that I took his advice and sought her out in a darkened downstairs back room behind the bar Three on East 72nd St. Everything about her is unique from the tiny voice that resembles Wee Bonnie Baker to the sweet, round, innocent face framed by gossamer long white-blond hair. She's a song writer of 30 tunes, writes odes to her friends (John Lennon "Hey, John" and "Sweet Georgie Fame") and weaves something of a mystical spell with her soft tones and elegant, old-fashioned little girl manner of speaking.

So I too wrote a resounding tribute to the lady who is in the elite musical cliche of Bobby Short (now much better known than he was three years ago), Mabel Mercer and Cleo Laine. Unless you went to New York where she plays places like the Carlyle Hotel (when Short is out of town), Reno Sweeney's or Three, you'd not be likely to bask in the radiance of her special talent.

Monday was a rare night in San Francisco where Wasserman prevailed upon El Matador owner Walter Pastore who'd never heard of her before, to bring her in for one night (two performances are unusual for her as she normally plays a 6 to 8 p.m. concert so that she can get home early and take care of herself).

There were lines down the block and the club packed for both performances, with little advance notice, so I barely got into the club at all. I lucked out by sitting with the graciously smiling singer with the breathy whispering voice until she went to the piano. I consider myself privileged to have one of her autographed albums, 50 of which she sold there to eager fans.

Why did I think no one on the coast knew her? Sophisticated snobism, maybe. But if and when she returns it will be just like Cleo Laine's debut. Once heard, forever adored with subsequent concerts getting top priority on the social calendar.

Blossom Dearie is her real name. Her father was Scottish. When she plays at Ronnie Scott's club in London, the silence in the room is like in a church. She won't allow any drinks served during her set and isn't shy about speaking directly to rude patrons about their behavior.

When she isn't performing or recording (you can order her Daffodil label by mail order to her New York apartment), she's visiting family in East Durham, N.Y. or traveling to Europe where she is as big a rage as in New York.

She wants badly to have her own room with good acoustics and lighting and proper ventilation to remove the smoke that hurts her eyes. Dressed in a prim long dress with no jewelry and a white Peter Pan collar, she introduces each song and the lyricist those names are the who's who of contemporary music.

Look her up next time you're in New York or London. She's something special.

County Freeway 380 Hearing Comments Being Sent to State

After hearing 10 speakers, most of them opposed to the extension of Portola Freeway (Route 380) to the Coastside, the San Mateo County Planning Commission Wednesday ordered all comments submitted to the California Department of Transportation (CALTRANS).

W. J. Zenoni, chief of project development in Division IV for CALTRANS, said that all comments received in hearings on the draft of the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) will be considered and answered in preparation of a final Environmental Impact Report (EIR).

Deadline for submission of comments on the EIS for the proposed extension of the freeway from Junipero Freeway to Cabrillo Highway in Pacifica is Sept. 16.

Zenoni said that the date for advertising of bids for construction of the freeway extension, if it finally is approved, is sometime in 1982.

The proposed route comprises nearly five miles, with only some 3,000 feet of the extension in unincorporated area between Sa Bruno and Pacifica.

In its action, the planning commission requested that the final EIR be submitted to the commission for review before being forwarded to the board of supervisors, although there is no legal authority for such a procedure.

One speaker at Wednesday's session, Mark Forcem, speaking on behalf of a group of Capuchino High School students, claimed that the "real purpose" for extension of Route 380 is to "promote coastal growth for developers, not to serve the people of Pacifica."

His view contrasted with that of Pacifica Councilwoman Grace McCarthy, who said that routing of the freeway is in the "best place possible" and would provide better access from the coastside to Bayside communities with reduced mileage and traffic signals.

"Good roads accommodate the traffic, they don't create it," Mrs. McCarthy asserted.

Furthermore, she stated, opening of the freeway route would make possible "spectacular views" of the San Francisco watershed area.

In his report, Forcem contended that opening of Sweeney Ridge to accommodate the freeway route would create an adverse weather problem by allowing fog to penetrate further inland, along with greater wind speeds, affecting San Bruno residential areas.

In the report by Anne A. Parke, a member of the county planning staff, it is stated that the EIS contains all those sections required under applicable state and federal regulations, but it is "technically inadequate, incorrect and incomplete with respect to its treatment of county resources and unincorporated lands."

However, she notes, the county's master plan for 1990 indicates a freeway in the proposed location of Route 380.

Zenoni reported that the corridor for the freeway route was adopted by the state in 1963.

In its action, the Planning Commission adopted Miss Parke's recommendations that all comments be forwarded to CALTRANS and that the state submit its replies to such comments prior to preparation of a final EIR so that the commission may review them before submitting a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors.

Zenoni said following Wednesday's hearing, attended by some 30 persons, that there are no more public hearings scheduled on the EIS, but that the state will forward its replies on comments to the planning commission.

SM Board Postpones Revisions

With the prospects of a 2 to 2 deadlock, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors decided Tuesday to postpone for two weeks a decision on proposed revisions to board meeting procedures.

Of main concern is the board's present policy of meeting each Tuesday of the year.

One of the proposed changes recommended by County Manager M. D. Tarshes in response for a board request to eliminate or update inflexible sections of the ordinance code relating to meetings is that a fifth Tuesday of the month become an optional, rather than a mandatory, meeting date.

Supervisor William H. Royer said he favored the option, stating it would give him, or other board members, an opportunity to utilize a fifth Tuesday for vacation without having to miss a meeting.

Royer stated he would like the flexibility, even though the board probably would not utilize more than one option out of four or five fifth Tuesdays a year to cancel meetings.

Regional Plan Wins Support

Development of a plan to coordinate the functions of a number of regional agencies was agreed on Wednesday by representatives of several of the organizations.

In a meeting at San Francisco City Hall called by San Mateo County Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, the Council of Regional Gencies (CORA) was informally created as a replacement for a regional planning agency. A bill to create a regional planning agency was defeated earlier this month in the State Legislature.

Fitzgerald subsequently called Wednesday's meeting to determine if something can be done to coordinate some $7 billion worth of projects planned by the various regional agencies during the next 10 years.

It was agreed, Fitzgerald said, that staff representatives of the agencies meet and attempt to develop a proposal which can facilitate a coordinated program.

The time frame, the supervisor reported, is to have the staff report to a planning committee within 60 days concerning aspects of creating the program.

Fitzgerald said that there are four main aspects in developing a coordinated plan:

- Prevention or elimination of duplication of effort which exists today.
- More effective communication.
- Cooperative exchanges of services.
- Greater coordintion of programs, planning and public information.

Attending Wednesday's meeting were representatives of the Association of Bay Area Governments the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, the Bay Area Sewage Services Agency, the Metropolitan Transportation Commission, the Bay Conservation and Development Commission and the California Coastal Zone Conservation Commission.

Federal Road Funds Voted

A total of $8.2 million in Federal Aid Urban (FAU) funds to help finance 15 San Mateo County highway and street projects over the next three years was allocated to the county Wednesday by the Metropolitan Transportation Commission.

The federal funds will pay 83 per cent of the cost of the projects, with the balance to come from local agencies.

The largest single allocation, $2,500,000 is proposed for construction of the Mariner Boulevard interchange with the J. Arthur Younger Freeway in Foster City.

Only non-highway allocation in the program is an amount of $38,000 to help finance the purchase of an additional bus for the Menlo Park Municipal Carriage System.

Other highway projects and amounts:

- Belmont — Widening and signalization on Ralston Avenue between Old County Road and El Camino Real, $125,000; improvement of Ralston Avenue from South Road to Alameda de las Pulgas, $332,000.
- Millbrae — Addition to Millbrae Avenue interchange at Bayshore Freeway, $1,600,000; Rollins Raad extension, Garden Lane to Millbrae Avenue, $120,000.
- San Mateo — Construction of grade seperation, Laurie Meadow Drive at Southern Pacific tracks, $830,000; Hillsdale Boulevard, traffic signals at Nineteenth Avenue Freeway ramp, $85,000; El Camino Real and Peninsula Avenue, signal modification, $50,000; El Camino Real at 37th Avenue, signal modification, $75,000.
- South San Francisco — Acquisition for widening of El Camino Real, north city limit to Arroyo Avenue, $872,000.
- Redwood City — Holly Street interchange improvement (redwood Shores), $415,000; Whipple Avenue improvement from Industrial Road to Veterans Boulevard, $81,000; El Camino Real improvement, Whipple Avenue to Oak Street, $585,000.
- Menlo Park — Extension of Ravenswood Avenue from Alma Street to El Camino Real, $360,000.
- Pacifica — Installation of traffic signals at Cabrillo Highway and Crespi Drive, 1100,000.

The MTC also allocated $139,693 to the city of San Mateo for operation of its bus service and to develop a bus route between the city and Half Moon Bay.

Another $50,000 was allocated to Daly City for a study to develop a local bus system, with the allocation to be made only if formation of a county transit district is defeated by voters in the November general election. If the transit district is formed, the Daly City bus study will be incorporated within the district.

Broadmoor Man Held On Stabbing Charges

A Broadmoor man wanted in connection with the stabbing of a 22-year-old woman Tuesday night surrendered to Daly City police and was booked on attempted murder charges.

John Durando, 28, of 51 Chester St., Broadmoor had been the subject of a search since Sunday when he allegedly plunged a 10-inch knife into the abdomen of Kathy Hening during an argument.

Miss Hening had walked out of the couple's Chester St. house and was visiting her mother at 51 Risel Ave., Daly City, at the time of the stabbing, police said.

Police said the argument was over custody of the couple's child.

Durando failed to return to his apartment during a three day stakeout of the building.

Two snakes — a rattlesnake and an unspecified large reptile — along with two dogs — were taken from Durando's apartment and turned over to San Mateo County Humane authorities, Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage said.

About 6 p.m., Durando walked into the Daly City police station at 90th and Sullivan Avenues and surrendered to the officer on duty, a police spokesman said.

Robinson Should Look at Self Before Blaming Trading Teams

Le Pacini

Super Star

We see where Frank Robinson, the sensitive Super Star, is hurt and upset and even angry again over continued rumors that he MAY be traded by the California Angels.

It is difficult to imagine why any team would want to trade away a genuine Super Star, even an aging one. We often in this column have taken to task those who throw that term, Super Star, around so easily. But Robinson is one athlete who does fit the label. He's in his nineteenth year in the majors, is the only player to have ever been chosen Most Valuable in both leagues, has a lifetime batting average of close to 300, has driven in and scored a total of more than 3,500 runs, hit well over 550 homers, stolen over 200 bases. And if he hadn't injured a good throwing arm early in his career, he would have been a super defensive player, too.

But Robinson has been traded away three times, and does, indeed, seem headed forhis fourth barter deal.

Rather than blame those teams who continually trade him away, we wonder why Robinson doesn't look inside himself for the answers to why nobody seems to love him permanently.

How many players of his calibre have ever been traded away so often?

Joe DiMaggio, Stan Musial, Bob Feller, Ted Williams, Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Mel Ott, Hank Aaron, Harmon Killebrew, Mickey Mantle, Yogi berra, Whitey Ford, Roy Campanella, Al Kaline, Billy Willimams, Honus Wagner, Pie Traynor, and many, many other greats never played for more than one team.

Probably the most traded "super star" of all time was Rogers Hornsby, who went on the block four times, and was conceded generally to have been one of the most disagreeable men ever to have played the game. And disagreeable, we understand, was an understatement. Lovable Richie Allen has been traded three times in just 11 big league season.s

And, before we go on to the next item, a note for the professional bigot hunters who will almost certainly write in. Several months ago Robinson was on our printed recommended list as a fine managerial prospect for the Giants. After all, nice guys DO finish last, and we want the Giants to be first. Which is one thing Robinson knows.

ADD TO YOUR list of underrated managers, circa 1974, Bill Virdon of the Yankees, who came in under the shadow of Dick Williams and currently has a group of leftovers, disappointments and cripples in second place in the American League East.

Consider, briefly, what Virdon has to go through, besides the obvious pressure of following in Williams' ghostly footsteps: his pitching leader, Mel Stottlemyre, has been out virtually all season; Sam McDowell, as usual, has been a complete bust; Thurman Munson, one of the best catchers in baseball, has had two or three bad injuries, and a terrible season as a result; Graig Nettles started out like he was going to overtake Aaron in homers in one season, and is ending up with one of his worst years; RBI and homerun leader Bobby Murcer hasn't hit as many homers as a lot of shortstops in the AL; and Chris Chambliss, Ron Blomberg and Roy White have had disappointing seasons.

Add the fact that half the Yankee pitching staff was traded to Cleveland early in the season, and that the roster has had almost a 100 per cent turnover (in some positions it's been 200-300 per cent) of castoffs and other nonentities since spring training, and it's amazing that Virdon has even managed to keep the once proud Yanks in the ball park. But he has. Amazing!

FOR THOSE of you who enjoy irony, following are some headlines which appeared in the March 16, 1974 Sporting News:

"Sutton Goals For '74 Include 25 Victories and 270 Innings."

"Astros Every Bit as Strong as Reds, Maintains Menke" (That's a double irony, because Menke is now retired.)

"Daily Action Number One Goal of Pdres' Matty." (That's Matty Alou, who was released unconditionally weeks ago — and not picked up by any other team.

FOR TRIVIA LOVERS: What great Yankee made his first start on the same day that Lou Gehrig ended his consecutive game playing streak?

Who is the only man who ever pinch-hit for Ty Cobb?

Answers: Outfielder Charley "King Kong" Keller, whose career was tragically cut short by a slipped disk, made his first start the day Gehrig removed himself from the lineup. Fatty Fithergill once pinch-hit for Ty Cobb. And Fatty was no fluke. A right handed swinger, he had a lifetime batting average of .326 for 11 years in the bigs.

IF WE MAY make one more weak defense of the Giants. They HAVE had an abnormal amount of injuries and management traded away too many stabilizing vets too soon, leaving all those kids without a rudder. If only some of those vets hadn't commanded such high salaries, Stoneham might have been able to keep a few of them.

Going back a few years, one veteran we always regretted leaving was Ron Hunt, who we're sure by now would have kicked a few apathetic fannies around the clubhouse and perhaps have helped to instill a little pride and teamwork in the club. And he also might have been that third baseman they need.

LOCAL NOTES: Aaron Wright, 21, a commercial fisherman from Pacifica who is also rated the third best surfer in California, has been invited to compete in the U.S. Surf Board contest at Cape Hatteras, N.C., this month.

LAST THOUGHTS: Possibly one of the reasons why the Giants are hitting so many singles, thus scoring so few runs, is because the long ball requires aggresiveness at the bat, and a few more homers don't make quite the impression come contract time as a batting average 20 points higher that it might have been had some chances been taken in the batter's box.

The only thing that can stop Lou Brock, now, from breaking Maury Wills' single season stolen base record is a batting slump. Can't steeal bases if you're not on them.

Waterfowl Hunting Rules Set

California will have liberal 93-day waterfowl hunting seasons for 1974-75 in most areas under regulations adopted by the California Fish and Game Commission.

Commissioners unexpectedly approved restrictions on shot for both waterfowl and upland game.

The daily bag and possession limit on canvasbacks will remain one. However, there will be no open season on canvasbacks in San Francisco Bay, Suisun Bay, Suisun Marsh and the Salton Sea. Duck bag limits may be increased by taking two pintails per day and four may be possessed.

Goose limits also remained unchanged.

The northeastern area, which follows the Oregon framework, will have a straight duck season from Oct. 12 through Jan. 12 with a daily bag limit of five and a possession limit of 10.

WINNERS GALORE

The El Camino Ice Skating Club was well-represented in the recent Squaw Valley Invitationals, which featured contestants from all over the U.S. Five El Camino members took firsts. Left to right: Tim Davis, Palo Alto (pre-juvenile men); Dawn Marie Linsley, San Bruno (intermediate ladies); Jeff Davis, San Bruno (juvenile men); Julie Zusman, Millbrae (junior ladies) and Dwayne Butteries, South San Francisco (preliminary men).

Daly City Recreation

Carrooms Highlight at FDR

The eighth week of the summer recreation program at F. D. Roosevelt was highlighted by the carroms championship of the summer and softball.

In addition to the regular strike-out, basketball and stick hockey games, a single elimination Carroms Tournament was played which crowned Sammy Hernandez the summer champion with Tracy Thordsen in second place. Among the competitors were Shaunna Hall, Cathy Thordsen, Charles North, Darryl Perry, John Profeit, Joey Beighley, Abraham Lawson, Darryl Jones, Roy Bautista, Tracy Thordsen, Diane Beighley, Sam Famoso, Tommy Zupfer, Tony Lewis, and Sidney Edmonds.

At Fremont Central Park, 35 FDR kids spent the day swimming and boating in the sun. Receiving the "Golden Oars Award" were Darryl Jones, Byron North, Marcy Hoffman, Abraham Lawson, Sidney Edmonds, Kevin Whalen, Donald and Greg Simon, Evonne Lewis and Tommy Zupfer for skillfully propelling their boats around the lake.

Strangest pet award went to E. L. who has a pet roach!!! The FDR softball took second place in the Softball Playday at Gellert Park by defeating Vista Mar, 11 to 4, and losing to Skyline, 11 to 1.

Outstanding defensive player was second baseman Billy Moyle. The offensive drive was sparked by the hitting of Greg Isom, Wayne Wynn, Sidney Edmonds, John Profeit, Bill Moyle, Sam Hernandez, Darryl Perry, Tony Lewis, and Sam Famoso.

INVITATIONAL TOURNAMENT

The Hillside Masterbatters, forced to a second championship game by the Daly City Shoe Fair, gamely hung on to notch their second championship in the annual Invitational Tournament sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Division. The Masterbatters advanced to the championship game with a perfect 4-0 record and thus had to be beaten twice by the Shoe Fair.

In the first game, Shoe Fair scored 5 runs in the top of the last inning to win 6-5 forcing the Masterbatters to play another game before claiming the tournament crown. They proved too much for the "Shoe-men" as they won 6-3 squelching another last inning rally with some very good defensive play.

The top four teams in the tournament in their order of finish were: 1) Masterbatters, 2) Shoe Fair, 3) Chalmer's All Stars, and 4) Bud's Ice Cream.

Kloezeman Adjusts

By DICK DRAPER
Post Sports Writer

SPOKANE — Lee Roy Kloezeman was a little unsure of himself when he first put on a Washington State uniform.

As a freshman offensive tackle, he weighed only 218 pounds, and when the whistle blew for the one-on-one drills this fall, The 6-4 youngster from Serra High was expecting the worst.

It never happened.

"I was shocked," said the curly-haired teenager. "In those drills, I've never been physically beaten. Usually you expect to win half and lose half, but no one beat me."

Kloezeman felt the calibre of ball played in the WCAL was behind his easy transition into college football.

Head coach Jim Sweeney has noticed it, too. "He's an excellent freshman," commented the Irishman.

Colorado, the University of Arizona, Oregon, San Jose State and Santa Clara were after his services, but the choice was a simple one for the 18-year-old Kloezeman.

"I knew I'd get a better chance to play at an earlier age here than at a bigger school," explained Lee Roy. "And they have unbelievable coaching here — they work on a more personal basis. It's not like a business here."

At Serra, Kloezeman earned Times All-County and All-CCS honors.

While Lee Roy is looking forward to four more years, Jim Lewis' career as a Cougar is over. Academic problems have cut the Daly City player's career short just prior to his senior year.

The Westmoor High grad, reportedly working part-time on Seattle docks, is hoping for a tryout with a pro team next year, with assistance from his brother Gary, a WSU letterman and former 49er.

END OF SUMMER

A journey back two decades was evident recently as Daly City playground youngsters paraded styles and events of the Fifties. It kicked off the annual "Playground Fun Day" at Westlake Park and featured games, contests and carnival booths. There was acrobat Rosalinda Ruiz, above, for instance, as well as Amy and Mylene Schwimmer, all decked out for that era, below.

Westmoor Girl Home From Germany

Nancy Mikulin of Westmoor High School has returned home in Daly City after two months in Germany under The Experiment in International Living.

She lived with the Willi Gaiser family in the small village of Nebringen by the town of Gaufeldin near Stuttgart. Her "sister," Sonya, was the same age.

The father is a machinist who loves soccer and the mother is a very understanding woman who didn't make Nancy eat sausage.

Nancy traveled in Germany, Austria and Belgium. She also visited the states of New England and on her return from Europe spent five days in New York City with other American Experimenters.

She is available to show colored slides and give speeches to community groups concerning her impressions and adventures

Free Meal, Milk Policies Given

The Jefferson Elementary School District announced a free meal and free milk and reduced price meal policy for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served in schools under the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs. The hot lunch program will be in operation in all 20 schools starting on Tuesday, Sept. 10, 1974.

The JESD officials adopted the following family size income criteria for use in determining eligibility.

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown (see scale tables) are eligible for milk and meals free and reduced price meals. In addition, families not meeting this criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. New applications have to be made every year. Being on the free lunch program the previous year does not automatically place the children on free lunch for the current year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has such children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals or milk for them they should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provision of the policy the principal and/or school nurse will review applications and determine eligibility.

If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Mr. Herbert Hemington, District Superintendent whose address is 101 Lincoln Ave., Daly City, for a hearing to appeal the decision.

Hearing procedures are outlined in the policy.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the Education Center, 101 Lincoln Ave. where it may be reviewed by any interested party.

Trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District also have adopted the free milk and meal policy, but not the reduced price meal policy.

Information on that district's policies may be obtained from District Supt. Edward Morgan's office at 375 S. Mayfair Ave., Room 214, Daly City.

Most of the area's school districts have the same policy — offering the free milk and meal program, and, in some cases, the reduced price meals.

THE PERFECT HOST

Almaden Chenin Blanc, 5th

Chenin Blanc (pronounced Shenn-inn Blahnc) is the perfect choice for those who find some dry wines too dry. It is fruity and soft and made from the classic white grape of the Lorie Valley of France. Like other white wines, this wine should be refrigerated for three hours before serving.

At $2.25, this wine would be a perfect host to either the chicken or the pork chops that are featured this week.

Peninsulans Rap SF Water Rate Plan

Claiming that San Francisco's proposed dual water rate schedule is "improper, illegal, and immoral," the North County Council of Cities Thursday night voted to "strongly urge Mayor (Joseph) Alioto to veto the heavy-handed, oppressive and merciless action of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors."

San Bruno Mayor Tony Governale was named to head a committee to "take whatever steps necessary to make our views known."

Governale was cautioned by one or two members, however, to withdraw from pursuing his resolution, if Mayor Alioto vetoes the double water rate.

San Bruno Councilman George Corey, an attorney, cautioned that the North County resolution asking Alioto to veto the dual water rate hike, also alleges illegalities in San Francisco's trusteeship of Sierra water. Pursuing this, he said, is something "I don't want to get into."

Civic leaders from Burlingame, Millbrae, San Bruno, South San Francisco, Brisbane, Daly City and Pacifica heard Sheriff John McDonald promise a North County Sheriff's substation "within 30 days."

McDonald said first service would be to assist civil court matters only, but that he hoped for "full service" including crime lab, patrol and investigation and full-time staffing, perhaps by January 1.

Under Harold Barker, chief deputy of the administrative division, McDonald said, "we want to get back out in the areas where we will serve the people."

San Bruno Councilman Corey "this is something we've been asking for, for a lot of years," and told the Sheriff "you have done one hell of a job."

The Council of Cities voted to support the county bus system proposal on the November ballot, and asked the state to cease disclaiming costs of programs it requires cities to set up and finance.

They heard Acting Executive Director Ann Taylor describe the county's Criminal Justice Council, and its role in setting up the "Des Moines Project" of extended parole and other "alternatives to incarceration" in Daly City.

Although the project is not supported by the Sheriff, Ms. Taylor and San Mateo County Supervisor William Royer said they look at it as a means of developing "some hard data" to determine what the real North County needs are, regarding a jail facility.

Supervisor Royer asked for the council's support for a county-sponsored plan for court consolidation, even though council member Corey had said the plan is "dead" because it does not provide North County cities with protection of services.

Corey has led a North County Council committee to see that the county's plan protected the cities, and said he could not agree with the language of the county plan.

Royer said he had thought as recently as Tuesday, that the wording of the proposal had been worked out to Corey's satisfaction.

The council took no action on Supervisor Royer's request for support.

Council members adjourned in memory of former San Bruno Police Captain William Cann, who died early Thursday from a gunshot wound he received. He had been Union City's Chief of Police.

County Offers Shots

Flu shots will be available during September and October to all San Mateo County residents 65 years of age and over, it has been announced by Dr. James Bodie, director of the Health Division of the Department of Health and Welfare.

A new state law allows health departments to offer the flu shots at a $1 fee.

Because flu can become a serious illness with older persons, Bodie is urging senior citizens to take advantage of the low-cost shots.

Bodie warned, however, that persons allergic to eggs should not receive the flu shots. Persons planning to take the shot should have their Social Security cards with them.

The September schedule for flu shot clinics:

- Millbrae — Community Recreation Center, 477 Lincoln.
- Millbrae — Monday, Sept. 23, 9-11 a.m., Community Recreation Center, 477 Lincoln Circle.
- Daly City — Monday, Sept. 23, 1:30-3:30 p.m., Lincoln Park Recreation Center, 901 Brunswick St.
- Redwood City — Tuesday, Sept. 24, 10 a.m.-12 noon, Veterans Memorial Building, 1455 Madison Ave.; Friday, Sept. 27, 1:30-3:30 p.m., Fair Oaks Community Center, 2600 Middlefield Road.
- San Mateo — Tuesday, Sept. 24, 1:30-3:30 p.m., First Presbyterian Church, 194 W. 25th Ave.; Wednesday, Sept. 25, 1:30-3:30 p.m., Martin Luther King Center, 725 Monte Diablo Ave.
- South San Francisco — Thursday, Sept. 26, 9-11 a.m., North County Health Center, 1024 Mission Road.
- Half Moon Bay — Thursday, Sept. 26, 2-3:30 p.m., Ocean View Plaza, 1001 Main St.
- Menlo Park — Friday, Sept. 27, 9-11 a.m., Little House, 800 Middle Ave.
- East Palo Alto — Wednesday, Sept. 25, 9-11 a.m., St. Francis de Assisi Church, 1425 Bay Road.

The October schedule will be announced later. Further information concerning the flu shot clinics may be obtained at the Public Health Nursing offices in South San Francisco, San Mateo, Redwood City, East Palo Alto and Half Moon Bay.

Tourism in SM County Said Lagging

The numbers of conventions and visiting delegates in San Mateo County slumped during the energy crisis plagued first six months of 1974, according to the San Francisco County Convention and Visitors Bureau.

The slump now appears to have ended, however, according to bureau statistics for the month of July. More than 3,000 persons attended seven conventions in San Mateo County last month, compared to 1,500 delegates to six conventions for the same month one year ago.

The July figure brings the 1974 totals to 84 conventions and 62,840 delegates.

Assessment Deadline Set

The deadline for filing of applications for hearings to protest 1974-75 San Mateo County property assessments is Monday, Sept. 16, at 5 p.m., Eileen Kenyon, clerk of the Assessment Appeals Board, reminded property owners today.

Applications can be obtained in the Board of Supervisors office, Hall of Justice, Redwood City, or by calling the board office.

Chef Roy King is now in charge of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel Willow restaurant. Chef King, who has long been identified with leading restaurants in the Bay Area, as well as the East Coast, recently received the Chef of the Year American Culinary Federation Santa Clara Chapter award. Many menu changes are in store for the Willow restaurant, which is now serving breakfast, luncheon and dinner from 6 a.m. to 8:45 p.m. seven days a week. . . . Breakfasters who like their omelets or ham 'n eggs with a view of beach and pounding surf should take advantage of the spectacular surroundings at Nick's Restaurant-Lounge, which stands just yards back from the shoreline at Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. Serving from 10 a.m., Nick's is a favorite stop-off for breakfast, lunch and dinner for those traveling from miles around. There's lots of fun in the evenings, too. Lively sounds of the Steve Romano Combo for dancing Wednesday through Sunday. For seafood, try Nick Gust's Captain Charles. For Continental specialties, it's The Moonraker. Each offers the same vista view of the Pacific Ocean . . . This weekend promises to be one of the busiest ever for the staff at Park Avenue Tours. If you're heading for South Lake Tahoe or Reno, why not make arrangements and reservations now for their special bonus package. One call to the Peninsula Park Avenue Tours (345-0488) and your weekend will be filled with "Fun the Nevada Way"

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Finocchio's Dancer Dahl Ballet Trained

Chicagoan Reggie Dahl is one of the graceful dancers in the Eve-ettes chorus line at Finocchio's world-famous nitery in San Francisco. Dahl's ballet training provides him with an exceptional background for the intricate dance steps. The Eve-ettes open and close the four shows nightly with their dance productions . . . Fred Dias and his gang at Walter's in San Bruno are avid 49er fans and wouldn't think of missing a home game. Which means Walter's cocktail lounge will be sending buses of fans to all the Niner games at Candlestick Park. Refreshments are also included. Good idea to make early reservations . . . Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant, located on the same site as the old fish market that Vince Licata established in 1945, is one of the Peninsula's most sought-out restaurants. From its small beginning (a few tables and a counter were added to the small fish market), Vince's has grown to include many dining areas, a banquet facility, and an intimate cocktail lounge for relaxed conversation while sipping before or after dinner cocktails. Located next door is Vince's Seafood Depot, where fresh fish in season is available for take home. This is Vince's 29th year as a restaurant leader — so drop by and help them celebrate. . . . Bright Lights recently made mention that "Wheat Straw," a great musical group, looked and sounded like a smash hit. We're happy to announce that it is now official — they are, they are! Word from the Winery in Boston and the Frontier in Las Vegas: "This group is great!" Wheat Straw (Robert Bundsen, Jenny Vernacl, Matt DeFreitas and Roger Mills) can now be seen and heard at the Custom House in Cupertino on Fridays; Chuck's Cellar in Los Altos on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and The Winery in Palo Alto on Saturdays. Don't fail to catch this entertaining group . . . As nightly crowds are attesting, the menu at Shipwreck Kelly's, located in the Airport Marina Hotel, Burlingame, is a palate pleaser. "Reserve a table and come hungry" is the advice of this unusual restaurant, which also features a Salad Bar where you can heap all you want of salad makings before being served your choice of entree. You'll also find some lively sounds in the Shipwreck Kelly's Lounge to keep the pace fast.

ENTERTAINING PAIR
Piano stylist and singer, Ted Roe, entertains nightly in the Sunset Lounge at Highlands Inn, in Carmel, Thursday through Sunday evenings, attractive songstress Curtis Phillips joins Ted at the piano.

Enrico Romano Also Heads Kitchen Detail

When not greeting his dinner guests, Enrico Romano can usually be found in the kitchen of his Romano's Italian restaurant, in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, watching over his kettles of bubbling Italian sauces, melting cheeses and testing the long strands of spaghetti. You owe it to yourself to try any one of his delicious pizza combinations . . . It's not unusual to see Circle Star Theater headliners and their entourage feasting on such popular entrees as Prime Ribs of Beef, Mahi Mahi, and steak at Scotty Campbell's. Celebrities frequenting this award-winning restaurant in Redwood City include sports figures (many 49ers are often seen dining here) and personalities of TV, flickers, and radio . . . Phil Lehr has been getting long distance calls all week from restaurateurs all over the West, making reservations for cocktail and dinner parties in the elegant Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery during the big, upcoming Restaurant Convention . . . Daybreak, the band currently entertaining in the lounge at Holiday Inn, Belmont, will wind up its engagement here this week. General Manager Joe De Dio has inked Jade Two to open Sept. 10 . . . Shish Kabob and Burger Kabob are "house specialties" at Dick's Corner House in San Mateo. Nino also does ouside catering for special functions, and his hot and cold hors d'oeuvers are getting taste raves.

CLOWNS, CLOWNS, CLOWNS

Professionals and amateurs turned up for clown auditions Thursday at the Cow Palace as Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus held an introduction to the "clown college." Bill Ballantine, below, dean of the only clown college in the country, told applicants what the circus wants in a clown act. That means pantomime, self-expression, innovation, surprise ending, gymnastic ability and, of course, comedy. The applicants in the other photos show how they interpret those qualifications. Successful applicants will be accepted at the clown college in Venice, Fla., for eight weeks of training.
